TESTING

Hello Everyone. Thank you for all your support and feedback on monster legends. We are testing version 1.2 on the closed beta. The majority of feedback that we have been asking for will be coming the in next patch, but thought we would have a round of bug testing now! Bugs that have been addressed are: 1. Monster collision should be better. (Should be able to see more monsters sometimes in inventory) 2.Items that cannot be looted sometimes now take up a portion of inventory. 3.AI has been tuned slightly. 4.Bug fix on tile and item use. Should this be present in next few patches, we will let you know. 5.First person view for monsters (When moving next to certain monsters) 6.Item-looting bug for death spell. Now working.

This patch is live on multiple platforms:

Q: Proper way to show a message box after an SQL query? Using C#.NET, I have an SQL query that is run as part of another process. It is very "busy", and if run as it is running it could potentially hang my application. So I'd like to either display a message box "please wait" and then close it, or put it in a while() loop. What's the proper way to do this, and is there any best practice? A: You can use the BackgroundWorker class: Alternatively, you could use the System.Threading.Thread.Sleep Both have a lot of caveats and should be used carefully. The Android stock browser (at least on the Nexus One device) has an annoying problem of re-directing to a black page when browsing back or forward on a site. As you can see from the video, the re-direct doesn't happen if you hit the back button while not in the middle of a URL, but often enough for it to become annoying and distracting. 2/13 So, I just changed my hosts file to have a www.google.com entry and the forward page works correctly without re-directing. The previous entries in my hosts file had www.google.com. but the sites still re-directed to www.google.com, which was why I had the problem in the first place. 2 Comments I'm using the N1, 2.1.1 and the re-direct issue is still present. I've noticed that if you type the address into the address bar, then click on the home key to open the browser, the first couple clicks will bring you back to the address bar. However, the re-directs continue to happen. I've posted this bug on OTA-6 on the bugtracker, but I would like to add that it will be fixed in the daily build which comes out tonight (23rd of September). The bug is on the Nexus One device, not any of the other phones.Q: Can not place the drop down menu after clicking the button in css
