Category:3D graphics software Category:Google SketchUpIdentification of C19orf23, a novel coiled-coil protein in skeletal muscle. A novel gene, C19orf23, which maps to 19q12, was identified by searching for genes in close proximity to ryanodine receptor 1 (RYR1), the gene for the skeletal muscle ryanodine receptor. Human C19orf23 contains a homologous domain to the F-box protein, a sequence of about 60 amino acids at the C terminus. A cDNA cloning technique was used to determine the complete nucleotide sequence of the gene and construct the deduced protein sequence. In this report we report the precise nucleotide sequence of the C19orf23 gene, and we also characterize the location of C19orf23 in a mouse skeletal muscle cDNA library. Analysis of mouse genomic sequence with a probe for the human C19orf23 gene revealed that C19orf23 is a member of the Filamin A (F1LN) family of proteins. Three F1LN genes have been identified to date, and they encode either one or two actin-binding proteins with a double-headed coiled-coil structure.ABOARD AIR FORCE ONE, Washington -- President Trump on Tuesday again criticized House Intelligence Committee Chairman Adam Schiff for his role in what he described as a "hoax" over alleged Russian collusion with his 2016 presidential campaign. Trump asked reporters aboard Air Force One, "Isn't that the most ridiculous thing you've ever heard?" The president was responding to reports that Schiff had said he hoped Trump would come forward to testify before his panel next month. "I never even heard of the guy," Trump said, repeating a favorite line from his rally last week in North Carolina. Schiff, a Democrat from California, has been leading the inquiry and is expected to call ex-Trump campaign manager Paul Manafort as a witness to testify on Capitol Hill next month. Manafort has previously denied having any contact or receiving any offers of help from Russian President Vladimir Putin's government regarding Trump's campaign, but has admitted to working for the Ukrainian government's former pro-Russian leader Viktor Yanukovich. Schiff has insisted that Manafort is a "critical witness." On Tuesday, Schiff sat down with Trump for their first face-to-face meeting 6d1f23a050
